Classical music in Vienna

If a city is considered a „city of music,” there must be a good reason for that. In truth, there are many good reasons – and the historical one is just one of them. There is a lot of evidence of the glorious role that the City of Vienna has played in music history – and still plays important composers who were born or lived here and created their masterpieces: Mozart, Haydn, Schubert, Bruckner or Mahler. Already at that time, Vienna was considered a „world city of music”. As a city renowned for its musical heritage, Vienna has produced many influential composers such as Mozart, Haydn, Schubert, Bruckner, and Mahler, cementing its status as a "world music city". Even modern classical composers, such as Arnold Schönberg and Gottfried von Einem, have called Vienna their musical home.

Culture Meeting Point / Association for the Support of Cultural Exchange

Founded in 1995, the Culture Meeting Point Cultural Awareness Center aims to foster understanding between and through cultures. The belief that knowledge of a culture leads to greater understanding—both of the culture itself and its people—has always been at the core of the association’s activities. These include organizing festivals, theater projects, club events, film screenings, children and youth initiatives, competitions, educational programs, readings, and exhibitions. In 2025, Culture Meeting Point will celebrate its 30th anniversary in arts and culture with a series of 30 special events.
